

Quotes by Margaret Mitchell

After all, tomorrow is another day!

Fighting is like champagne. It goes to the heads of cowards as quickly as of heroes. Any fool can be brave on a battlefield when it's be brave or else be killed.

Life's under no obligation to give us what we expect.

My dear, I don't give a damn.

Until you have lost your reputation, you never realize what a burden it was or what freedom really is.

Death, taxes and childbirth! There's never any convenient time for any of them.

With enough courage, you can do without a reputation.

Her lips on his could tell him better than all her stumbling words.

The world can forgive practically anything except people who mind their own business.

What most people don't seem to realize is that there is just as much money to be made out of the wreckage of a civilization as from the upbuilding of one.

I want peace. I want to see if somewhere there isn't something left in life of charm and grace.

The usual masculine disillusionment in discovering that a woman has a brain.
